

Keep Cell Phones Away from Babies!

Did you know that your cell phone is 10 times dirtier than a toilet seat?

A survey found on average a person touches his or her cell phone 47 times a day and consequently transfers a lot of germs; some quite serious.

It's clearer now why your cell phone – or anyone else's – should never end up in your baby's mouth!

There are other possible health concerns, too.

- * At the 2016 Pediatric Academic Societies annual meeting, doctors said pregnant mothers should keep cellphones away from their stomachs.
- * Why? The doctors were concerned that potentially harmful radiation could affect the baby's brain development.
- * Early research suggests that parents err on the side of caution, the doctors said.

Your cell phone may fascinate your baby or young child, but it is not a toy. Protect your baby's health by keeping a cell phone out of his or her hands.
